

Science SPIN

Ireland's science, wildlife and discovery magazine

Subscribe now for just €18 and get the next 6 issues

Name -----

Address -----

Telephone (for confirmation purposes) -----

Email ----- CHEQUE -----

COLOUR — what we see and the science behind sight

Chemist Margaret Franklin and science journalist Tom Kennedy explain why we see the world in colour. Why was yellow banned in Ireland? Why is the sky blue? How is colour printed? The answers are all in this beautifully illustrated paperback. Normal price is €15, but subscribers can buy this book about colour for €12.

Science Spin

5 Serpentine Road, Ballsbridge, Dublin 4. Email: news@sciencespin.com

RATES UK £20, Europe €25 (air), USA $35 (air).

Bulk education, 50% discount, 10 copies of each issue, €90 Ireland only.

www.sciencespin.com